Dear Parents,

The single word that defines this week is 'joy!' - triangulated through children, staff and of course parents! As predicted our collective efforts led to a very smooth and safe transition back into school for most. Those continuing to need to isolate remain in good contact and carry on doing a brilliant job learning remotely.

The re-establishing of routines has been a feature at home as well as school. We hope that the session on the importance of sleep led by Miss Hodgkins and Mrs Druce on Wednesday evening, in conjunction with the FOST team, was useful. This and the other sessions planned are as a direct result of the feedback given on the recent parent questionnaire. Please look out for the flyers and messages from school regarding upcoming sessions

Safety continues to be a priority and I would like to say how well the children have done within their bubbles in keeping one another safe. We are continuing to keep a close eye on local COVID 19 figures and look at Government advice to begin making plans for further reopening and in particular, wraparound provision and after school activities. We will share any developments as soon as it is possible to do so.

Please see this week's Wednesday Word here, The focus for the week ahead will be 'self giving'. John's Gospel this weekend sees Jesus teaching Nicodemus (himself a teacher of the law) that God wants us to come out into the light and through our action, be the light. Not to be condemned but to be loved. What a great encouragement for this, the midpoint of Lent.

Continue to shine and be joyful!
