Dear Parents,

The start of a new school year is always a time to look forwards with fresh eyes to the opportunities that lay ahead.

The events of the past 24 hours following the passing of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, have caused us to look back over a reign that is hallmarked by duty, service and faith. For many of us, few in History will ever have the same presence over such a significant period of time, as the Queen. May she rest in peace.

The coming days will no doubt be sad and sombre but the sun will return and our new King, his Majesty Charles III, will begin his reign so that we can once again look forward with fresh eyes.

The character of our school and the values of Love, Trust, Teamwork and Ambition bond us as family and will continue to sustain us. The links between home and school were further strengthened by the recent 'meet the teacher' sessions. We have a lot to look forward to and a great year ahead.

We continue to keep families here and further afield in prayers at this time.

Yours sincerely

Mr Dachtler
Headteacher
